

Full private market visibility

Junior Data Analyst - Working student / Internship (GERMAN SPEAKER) - Remote

Is private equity a field you want to work in, but you don't have the experience yet? This could be your perfect first role. We look for motivated and smart finance students that want to break in!

An introduction

Gain.pro is a fast-growing deal sourcing platform that was created to provide disruptive services to the private equity industry. We identify, screen and benchmark investment opportunities for our clients. We realise this by blending technology and human analysis. Our platform is trusted by a growing number of leading investors and advisors. Gain.pro was founded by an ambitious international team that combines deep expertise in private equity (Bridgepoint, Gilde Buy Out Partners), consulting (McKinsey, Bain) and technology (Highstreet Mobile). We are a remote-first company, hiring from Amsterdam, London and Frankfurt we thereby operate on a European scale.

What will be your role?

- You will join as a Junior Data Analyst focused on researching and analysing German assets
- Tag & categorise businesses based on business model, sector and size
- Read financial statements and extract financials including cleaning
- You will support side projects for research purposes
- You will work in close cooperation with private equity analysts

What do we offer?

- Career preparation for Private Equity, Investment Banking, or Strategy Consulting
- Steep learning curve
- Fun working atmosphere and lots of coaching
- Broad network and community of like-minded peers
- Opportunity to qualify for a part-time Private Equity Analyst position
- Competitive compensation
- Remote working: flexible from home / university
- Part-time: flexibility around exam periods / flexible working days as a working student

Who are we looking for?

- Bachelor or Master students studying business or finance
- Relevant previous internship experience in finance or banking is preferred
- German native speaker and strong English writing skills
- Part-time: availability of at least 50 working days (minimum 2 full days per week)
- Internship: availability for minimum 3-months

And afterwards?

Liked your time at Gain.pro and are re-locating to a different country for university? No problem, you can continue supporting us from your new location. Top performers can qualify for a promotion towards part-time Private Equity Analyst and help us analyse companies in the fullest detail. Different plans? That's ok, your time with us will have been a great step towards a job in Private Equity, Investment Banking or Strategy Consulting.

Does this excite you?

Please apply directly via our website <https://gain.pro/careers>