

Letter of Recommendation

It is our pleasure to recommend Mr. Nando Fuhrer, born 06.07.2003, for employment to your organization. Nando has worked on an honorary basis for "Student Impact – Consulting for sustainable business" from September 2023 to December 2024.

Student Impact is a student-led management consultancy based at the University of St. Gallen, dedicated to integrating sustainability into business practices. We focus on driving change towards environmental and social sustainability, offering a spectrum of consulting services - including strategic, financial, and marketing advice - to both startups and established organizations. With a commitment to education and practical business expertise, we aim to empower students to become conscientious agents of change in the business world.

Nando worked as a Consultant on the following two client projects:

Project 1: Developing an ESG strategy for the robotics division of an international mechatronics company.

- Assessment of the international robotics market and sustainability regulations through research and interviews with experts in the robotics industry to derive opportunities and threats for the client's application areas
- In-depth analysis of the value chain of recycling processes in different industries to identify ESG use cases for the client's robots based on its core competencies and market potential
- Elaboration and evaluation of specific ESG use cases and circularity measures for the client's robots

Project 2: Developing a market entry strategy for a new product of a utility company.

- Conducting product analysis and comparison of platform offerings, including feature evaluation and performance benchmarking
- Performing market research through customer interviews, market sizing, competitor analysis, and legal assessment to provide strategic insights
- Developing and comparing value propositions for B2B and B2C channels to identify the most effective market approach
- Formulating a comprehensive pricing strategy based on market analysis and competitive positioning to optimize revenue potential
- Personal focus: Building a market sizing model with internal and external validation

Subsequent to his project work, Nando took on the position of Marketing and Communication Manager, where he was responsible for the following tasks:

- Personal focus: Independently conceptualized, produced, and delivered a high-quality, professional brand image video for Student Impact, demonstrating creativity, initiative, and strong project management while effectively aligning stakeholders and enhancing the organization's brand presence
- Marketing Strategy Development and Implementation: Identifying our target audience and determining the best ways to reach them
- Social Media Management: Being responsible for all of our social media content on our different channels

- Promotional Materials: Designing catching flyers, posters and digital content, as well as our own merchandise
- Events Photographer: Being responsible for capturing great moments at Student Impact events and visualizing our spirit

Nando always exhibited unwavering motivation, a diligent work ethic, and an extraordinary initiative and commitment in taking responsibility for his department. He consistently went above and beyond to advance the achievement of team objectives. He at all times mastered his field of work comprehensively and confidently to our full satisfaction and acquired new knowledge independently and quickly. His ability to work effectively under pressure, especially in critical phases, was commendable. Nando continually approached tasks with a high level of planning and reliability. His work pace provided a noteworthy balance between efficiency and accuracy, ensuring timely completion of projects while maintaining high quality standards. Thanks to his outstanding conceptual, creative, and analytical skills, he consistently found excellent solutions to any problems that arose, ensuring smooth and seamless department work. With exceptional interpersonal skills, Nando exemplified collaborative teamwork at all times. His friendly and open-minded approach was highly appreciated by superiors and colleagues, significantly contributing to the positive team dynamic and work environment.

We conclude that Nando consistently delivered work of highest caliber. He has demonstrated immense dedication, great expertise, and a proactive approach to his responsibilities. He has not only met but frequently exceeded our expectations, earning a distinguished reputation among peers and superiors alike. We have no hesitation in recommending Nando and are confident that he will be a valuable asset to any organization.

Nando left Student Impact at his own request. We thank him for his unwavering commitment and wish him all the best for his future professional and personal development.
