

Recommendation letter

To whom it may concern:

Mr. Luke Marken, born on November 11, 2003, worked in our company, Radiant, from September 11th to October 15th as a manual labor employee. During his tenure, Mr. Marken carried out various tasks in our warehouse and made a significant contribution to the improvement of our warehouse.

Luke Marken distinguished himself through exceptional reliability and a strong work ethic. He was consistently punctual, dependable, and executed his tasks with the utmost precision. His work was characterized by great care and accuracy, leading to outstanding results.

His remarkable craftsmanship and ability to successfully perform diverse tasks related to the renovation and maintenance of our warehouse are particularly noteworthy. Mr. Marken painted the warehouse, conducted concrete work, and completed various other tasks to ensure that our warehouse remains in the best condition.

His collaboration with colleagues was exemplary. Mr. Marken was a team player, communicative, and positively contributed to the work atmosphere. He was always willing to share his expertise and assist other employees when needed.

Luke Marken was not only extremely valuable to our company in terms of his expertise and skills but also due to his exceptional reliability and unwavering dedication. We highly value his work and commitment.

We deeply regret Mr. Marken's departure from our company and wish him all the best in his future professional endeavours.
