

LETTER OF REFERENCE

Mr. Carl-Philipp von Willich, born on October 12, 2000, from Muri bei Bern BE, was employed from May 01, 2023, until August 31, 2023, as an intern in the division Consulting Development with Accenture AG. Accenture is a global professional services company with leading capabilities in digital, cloud and security. More than 732,000 people are serving clients in more than 120 countries.

In his involvement in projects, Mr. von Willich specifically took on the following duties:

- Analyzing and documenting several elements of an IT organization's operating model as-is (for example, process map, organizational structure, locations)
- Structuring and conducting research on market (in particular, private banking competitors) and technology topics (such as, Cloud, workforce strategy, culture transformation)
- Visualizing strategic concepts in PowerPoint and crafting business language texts in several technology trend areas, such as Cloud, Shoring and Agile
- Implementing IT Strategy governance elements (such as, Kanban board, governance board charters, OKRs) in Confluence and JIRA
- Supporting the onboarding of a new employee and introducing her to Accenture and the client set-up
- Managing meeting and workshop organization (slides, room booking, agenda and so on) as well as post-processing (meeting minutes, follow-ups and others)
- Acting as a company ambassador, hereby adhering to the values of Accenture and contributing to a positive relationship with the IT Chief of Staff
- Performing further activities as part of a side-role, including:
 - Engineering an LLM(/ChatGPT)-prompt to support the company's executives with auto-generation of thought leadership articles
 - Moderating several of Accenture's Cloud community calls

The work at Accenture is characterized by frequently changing demands. Mr. von Willich proved to be very flexible in this regard and stood out by virtue of his great resilience. He consistently demonstrated a high degree of personal initiative and won others over with his exceptional work ethic. Even under the most difficult working conditions, Mr. von Willich carried out all tasks very reliably, systematically, independently and in an extremely goal-oriented manner. He achieved excellent results in the process. We would especially like to emphasize his excellent analytical thinking capabilities.

Mr. von Willich consistently carried out all duties to our fullest satisfaction.

Mr. von Willich was recognized and very much appreciated in equal measure by superiors, colleagues and clients. He always acted with loyalty towards the company and impressed others both with his personal integrity and his teamwork skills. His personal behavior was always exemplary.

Mr. von Willich's working relationship is ending due to the expiration of the contracted employment period. We would like to thank him for his outstanding service and wish him all the best and continued success in his further professional and personal life.
