Dear Lady or Gentleman,

Mr. Darius Kallenbach, born on October 28, 2003, was employed by Incedo Services GmbH as a Junior ERP Consultant (intern) from 5th of August - 23rd of October 2024. Incedo Services GmbH is a specialized consulting & software development company based in Stuttgart, Germany. For the duration of his employment, Mr. Kallenbach was working mostly on ERP-Projects for the company. Furthermore, he also took over various responsibilities for internal tasks and projects.

Below is a list of his specific areas of experiences and responsibilities:

1. ERP-System Haufe x360:

- Customer support during the whole implementation process
- Data migration projects (adjusting excel sheets and converting them into the system via a import scenario)
- Development of a Newsletter and presenting it to the customer
- Integration of a email tracking tool and a related marketing campagne
- Onboarding of new employees and training them in the system
- Completion of a total of 7 certifications, encompassing approximately 45 hours of video material

2. Internal projects:

- Restructuring of various programs into a purely Microsoft-based program structure
- Organization of multiple team and company events
- Creation of a new company presentation and corresponding master layout
- Delivering presentations on-site, remotely, and creating instructional videos regarding Microsoft programs and their usage within the company

Mr. Kallenbach comprehended new tasks extremely fast. He integrated himself easily into the company and team and added a lot of value to our company during his time of employment.

He always showed a very high dedication to his work and fulfilled his tasks to our fullest satisfaction. Furthermore, he did not only focus on fulfilling his dedicated tasks but also showed self-initiative and suggested improvements which many of them were implemented over time. He also developed leadership skills through recruiting, teaching and mentoring new colleagues.

Working together with Mr. Kallenbach was very pleasant thanks to his big commitment and very positive appearance. He was a crucial part of our consulting team and we can highly recommend Mr. Kallenbach for any consulting-related position. He is a dynamic and skilled person and an absolute teamplayer.

Finally, we would like to thank Mr. Kallenbach for the excellent work he has done at Incedo Services GmbH and wish him every success in his future career.
