

Assignment 2: Vision Speech (60 points)

- Deliverable: a vision speech
- Submission date: April 24
- Mode of delivery: you can choose between a recorded speech on video (max 10 minutes) or a written speech (max 1500 words).
- What should the vision speech include? In the vision speech you need to describe:
 - Your current self: Who are you today and how did you become that person? What are the key millstones leading to who you are today?
 - Highlight key moments and processes in your life that have shaped you into the person you are today.
 - Your future self: What is your plan? How would you like to develop as a person/leader? In what which areas do you want to grow?
 - Envision key goals you want to achieve towards the future.
 - Be specific about how you want to change.
 - Bridging the gap between your current and future selves: What actions will you take to close the gap between your current self and your ideal future self?
- These are just key components you may want to consider for your speech, but you are free to tell your story in the way that makes most sense to you.
- How will this be evaluated? In evaluating your speech, I'll be looking for indications that:
 - You have invested time in reflecting upon who you are, what made you into that person, and where you are headed.
 - You are capable to communicate your goals for the future with clarity and confidence.
 - You have feasible ideas regarding how to bridge the gap between your current and future selves.

Writing Exercises

- Below, you can find multiple writing and reflection exercises. These can (and should) be used as components for your final vision speech
 - These exercises are optional and will not be evaluated. Therefore, you do not need to submit these exercises.
 - However, if you wish to provide further support for your reflection process, you may submit those together with the vision speech. In case you choose to submit the writing exercises, feel free to hide/delete sensitive parts before submitting.

Exercise 1: Your past

- Divide your life into five different time periods. These periods can be as short or as long as you want. One period might be “early childhood”, or “first year at university”, for example. Give each period a title.
- Next, identify the significant experiences that characterized each of the five periods. You can write about as few or as many experiences as you like for each period.
- Describe how each of these experiences has influenced you and shaped who you are today. What people, events, and experiences have had the greatest impact on you and your life?

Period 1

Title

.....

Significant experiences in this period

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

How have these experiences, people, events shaped who you are today?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Period 2

Title

.....

Significant experiences in this period

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

How have these experiences, people, events shaped who you are today?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Period 3

Title

.....

Significant experiences in this period

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

How have these experiences, people, events shaped who you are today?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Period 4

Title

.....

Significant experiences in this period

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

How have these experiences, people, events shaped who you are today?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Period 5

Title

.....

Significant experiences in this period

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....
.....
How have these experiences, people, events shaped who you are today?
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Exercise 2: Your current self

When do you feel happy?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

When do you feel purposeful?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Think about your relationships (at school, work, family, friends, romantic partner, etc.).
Which of these relationships satisfy you? Do you want to change anything about these relationships? What sort of relationships do you aspire to have?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

If you had to describe yourself to another person, what are the three key things you would tell them about you so they could have a good understanding of who you are?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Exercise 3: Your leadership

Can you identify instances where you were dissatisfied with your leadership or received constructive feedback from others about it?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

What is the “ONE” thing that might hold you back from realizing your potential? What characteristic or trait of yours you would have liked to change?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Exercise 4: Your future

- Break down your ideal future into 5 goals. These specific goals can be from a number of different domains. For instance, a personal goal might be: "I would like to meet more people", " I would like to be led by my hopes rather than my fears", etc.

Goal 1

Goal Title

.....

Goal Description

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Goal 2
Goal Title

.....
Goal Description
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Goal 3
Goal Title

.....
Goal Description
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Goal 4
Goal Title

.....
Goal Description
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Goal 5
Goal Title

.....
Goal Description
.....
.....

.....
.....
.....

- For each of these goals, what are the main hurdles that may keep you away from reaching them? What changes do you need to make in order to be able to get closer to these targets? Is there anything you can do differently right away?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....