Mr. Duc Anh Hoang, born on February 23rd, 2000, was employed as an intern in our company in the area IT Consulting from October 1st, 2023, to December 22nd, 2023, at the location Münster.

zeb.rolfes.schierenbeck.associates is one of the leading international management consulting specialists for the financial services industry with offices in Germany, Denmark, Great Britain, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Austria, Poland, Sweden, Switzerland and Ukraine. More than 1.000 employees serve our clients – banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions – along the value chain.

Mr. Hoang's assignments included the following:

- Supported in a restructuring project of a leasing company with focus on IT
- Prepared documents for steering committee
- Organized workshops for the client
- Executed strategic analysis of self-developed tools (Individual data processing, IDP) and documented them in Confluence
- Assisted in the context of digital transformation and decommissioning of IDPs
- Assisted in the creation of a data management training document
- Conducted technical backtracing of database fields

Mr. Hoang demonstrated his good ability to familiarize himself quickly with new tasks. He was soon able to successfully apply the acquired professional knowledge to his work. Thanks to his keen perception, he was always confident and adapted well in new situations.

Mr. Hoang showed good commitment at all times. He was always well able to cope with a heavy workload. At all times his actions were considerate and highly goal-oriented. Therefore, he was always a valuable support in his work area. At any time, he was a determined, independent and very responsible employee. His attitude towards superiors, colleagues and cooperation partners was always good. We were always satisfied with the results of his work. He always responded to our complete satisfaction to the trust we placed in him.

Mr. Hoang is leaving us after the end of the agreed period of the work placement in order to continue his studies. We express our thanks for his good cooperation and wish him all the best for his further professional development and continued good success.
