

Case Study – Internship at Bosch Management Consulting

Project inquiry from Bosch Service Solutions (SO)

Project description

Bosch Service Solutions (SO) has used its expertise with efficient service processes to develop a new innovative service for internal (Bosch subsidiaries) and external customers (SMEs¹ & corporations). With automated processes, e.g. through the operation of bots, remarkable efficiency increases are feasible. The solution reduces the average processing time for travel expenses² from 35 minutes per case down to 5 minutes. A first pilot project within the Bosch group was successfully conducted in March 2025. The first internal market research has shown that no comparable solution is available at the market. Additional surveys with possible customers imply that the new “service solution for travel expenses” offers a significant business opportunity for Bosch SO. The analyses have convinced the management to initiate the next step. They plan the market launch of the “service solution for travel expenses” for Q1/26. As support, they assign Bosch Management Consulting for assessing the market potential, developing a marketing and pricing approach for the “service solution for travel expenses”.
